COTTON MARKETS.

New York, June 16.—The cotton market was rather nervous and irreguist to-day. New crop positions showed a tendency to rally from the share break of vesterday but sear months encountered further floutation by July longs and at the close prices were barely steady, net nine points lower to two points higher. Indifferent Liverpow cables, a generally satisfactory weather may and expectations of a bearish weekly report from the Weather Bureau encouraged a fonewal of yesterday's selling inovernent at the opening. First prices were three to right points lower in consequence, but offershar were well taken and houses with foreign connections and local spot interest appeared to be buying July. Some of the July buyers were sellers of new crop months, but brokers who had July selling orders were buyers of December, and the general Bet railled from the lowest on covering in advance of the weekly bureau. This report read about as expected, so far as the summary was concerned, but the state of details appeared rather less favor.

You can invest $1,000 or multiples thereof.

Full particulars about the loan, and will be sent to any one who inquires.

We could write a dozen letters and sell the whole issue, but we have decided to advertise them a time or two and see how many people who read our ads. are interested in A1, 6 per cent real estate investments.

Remember it pays 6 per cent, and is as safe, in our opinion, as could possibly be desired.
